A. PROJECT REVIEW (FUTURE AGENDA ITEMS)

A-1. ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REPORT NO. 07-002/ CONDITIONAL USE PERMIT NO. 07-039 (HUNTINGTON BEACH SENIOR CENTER) - Jennifer Villaseñor, Associate Planner

Jennifer Villaseñor, Associate Planner, gave a presentation and reported on the Environmental Impact Report. Consultants from PBS&J were present to answer questions.

Commissioner Livengood asked if the traffic analysis addressed the specific intersections of Ellis/Goldenwest, Talbert/Goldenwest and Slater/Goldenwest and staff stated that it had. Commissioner Livengood also raised the issue of sub-potable wells and gray water and staff noted that recycled water is not available for the project.

General discussion followed regarding patio events and noise abatement and staff stated that the project would adhere to City standards per the EIR.

Commissioner Shier-Burnett spoke of the visual impact the Senior Center would have on Central Park and discussed landfill issues.

Commissioner Shaw talked of raptor mitigation funding and stressed that the Senior Center needs to be LEED Certified, noting that the City needs to lead by example. Director of Planning Scott Hess noted that LEED Certification is suggested, not required.

Chairman Scandura stated that the final EIR addresses all of the issues, is well written and he complimented both staff and PBS&J on their efforts. However, he still has concerns regarding runoff to the Shipley Nature Center and raptor foraging relocation. Scandura also stated that LEED Certification needs to be a priority, not an option, and recommends aiming for Silver or Gold LEED Certification.

Ralph Bauer, Committee to Support the Senior Center, spoke in favor of the project, noting that the decision to implement additional noise mitigation would come from the City Council and the Planning Commission.

Don McAllister, from the Council on Aging, spoke in support of the Senior Center, commenting that the noise levels and traffic impacts are minimal at the existing Rodgers Senior Center and he believes the situation will be the same at the new Senior Center. He also encouraged the Planning Commission to support LEED Certified construction.

He stated that he has a geotechnical background and noted concern regarding inactive and active earthquake faults within close proximity to the site.
